PM joins 5000 job hunters on Coast

PRIME Minister Kevin Rudd has told the Sunshine Coast how his government has protected our industries and pushed for balanced growth.

The bespectacled PM was one of 5000 at the Centrelink Jobs Expo yesterday, an event that helped fill more than 600 Coast vacancies.

He spoke of happily returning to the Sunshine Coast. Mayor Bob Abbot said it was clear our region was still close to the heart of the federal leader.

Mr Rudd spent about an hour at the Lake Kawana Community Hall before heading to a lunchtime event in Brisbane - but only after he helped a young woman find a new job.

GROCERY 'GOLIATH' TESTED BY OUR 'DAVID'

A SUNSHINE Coast grocery store owner of more than 20 years has appealed to Australia's competition watchdog over alleged unfair competitive activity by supermarket giant Coles. Mel Luke fears the supermarket "Goliath" will force him out of business. STORIES ON PAGE 5
